REALTORS OF VALLEY JOIN IN BOOSTER LUNCHEON

More Than 100 Meet in Verdugo Park; Organize Board for 3 Towns

ORGANIZATION of a realty board that will include the principal dealers of La Crescenta, La Canada and Montrose was perfected yesterday at the close of the luncheon at which the realty men of those three towns and of Tujunga were the guests of the Glendale Realty Board, Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the California Real Estate Association, aiding in the work of organizing the new board. More than 100 real estate men and women of the San Fernando valley towns sat down to the barbecue luncheon, which was served under the trees at a point opposite the dancing pavilion in the Glendale-Verdugo Park.

M. V. Hartman, of the Tujunga Realty Board, suggested the formation of an organization that would embrace all of the realty boards in the San Fernando valley, and whose members would work together for the benefit of the great stretch of country that goes to make the valley one of the wonder spots of the southland, an organization that would work with a thorough understanding of the conditions governing the life here and the proper methods to be followed in working out the destiny of Glendale and the adjacent towns as one unit, that would exercise an important influence on the physical and political development of southern California.

Mr. Hartman invited the assembled realtors to attend the celebration to be held in the "Green Verdugo Hills" at Easter, when a mountain will be christened with the name of Mount Verdugo, in honor of the famous California playwright and author John Steven McGroarty, whose gentle and kindly philosophy has endeared him to millions, and to whom it is desired to pay some tribute while he is here on earth to enjoy it.

Leimert's Ideals
Walter Leimert, who is subdividing and placing on the market the C. E. Thom ranch and adding 1000 acres to the development of the valley, was welcomed to Glendale, and expressed his pleasure at his reception here. He told briefly of the plans that his organization has formed to bring to Glendale the highest type of home seekers by inculcating into the work of subdividing the property they have secured higher ideals than are usual.

Knights Templar Will Take Part in Fund

Glendale Knights Templar are to have a part in the $1,000,000 scholarship fund, sanctioned by the grand encampment at New Orleans, it was announced at the recent stated meeting of the Glendale commandery, when the scholarship project was discussed and application blanks received.

This scholarship fund is similar to the scholarship funds of college and university clubs, for assisting deserving young people in gaining a college education.

The Knights Templar plan to lend this money to deserving young people, who are desirous of going to college, but haven't the necessary funds.

Application blanks are in the hands of the Glendale commandery officers, and, according to information received, the scholarship offer is open to any deserving young person, whether from a Masonic home or not.

Dr. Roy V. Hogue, eminent commander of the Glendale commandery, announced that there is to be a special convocation Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple.

Another event anticipated by the Glendale Knights is their grand ball Wednesday night, March 28.

ROBERTS & ECHOLS, DRUGGISTS, BUY SECURITY TRUST & SAVINGS BANK BLDG., BRAND, BROADWAY

Plan to Move Into New Location As Soon As New Home of Financial Institution Is Completed, It Is Announced

ONE of the largest real estate transactions ever put through in Glendale was consummated this morning with the purchase by Roberts & Echols, druggists, of the Security Trust & Savings Bank building at the southeast corner of Brand and Broadway.

This deal, which totals hundreds of thousands of dollars, was made possible by reason of the fact that the Glendale branch of the bank has purchased the site across the street, at the northeast corner of Brand and Broadway, and construction of the new six story structure is soon to be under way. The Roberts & Echols company will take possession of its new home directly upon its being vacated by the present tenants, which will be within ninety days, it is believed. The purchasers plan to cut an archway through from their present quarters in the Fulmer building next door on East Broadway, throwing together a combined floor space of 50x200 feet, which will be equipped with the finest drug fixtures and most complete stocks available.

When alterations are completed, this will give the Roberts & Echols drug company one of the most up-to-date establishments on the Pacific coast.

The upper stories of the three-story building will be leased. The deal was directed by John Cooper, realty manager for the Security Trust & Savings bank system, in conjunction with R. F. Kitterman, head of the Glendale branch.

Grow with Glendale
Commenting upon his firm's acquisition of their new and permanent home, Frank Echols states that it is the consummation of fifteen years of pioneering in the drug business in Glendale.

"Ten years ago we started in this city, then just a little town, with practically a one-man store," he said. "There were just the two of us—Fred H. Roberts and myself. Today we have five other registered pharmacists in addition to ourselves, a bookkeeper, four fountain clerks, a delivery force of three or four, and a boy or two."

Great Location
"As Glendale has grown, so have we grown—and that is what we are going to continue to do, in our new quarters. It gives us a wonderful feeling of permanence, to be located there on the corner of Broadway and Brand, as we will be in a few short months now."

Mr. Echols then spoke of the high grade fixtures, fountains and other equipment that will be installed in the new store. "In making this installation," he concluded, "we want it known that we are going to patronize Glendale industries wherever possible."

Work On New Bank
The plans and specifications for the new home of the Security Trust & Savings bank on the northeast corner of Brand and Broadway will be ready within the next three weeks, according to the architect, Alfred F. Priest, and bids will be asked on the general contract.

Drawings for the steel and terra cotta work are now ready and bids on this part of the work are now being considered by the bank officials, and as soon as a decision has been reached they will let the contracts.

The excavation for the building will be started as soon as the delivery of the steel required for the building is assured, as it is not considered necessary to proceed with this job until the work can be carried out without any fear of delay or interruption.

The picture on the fence surrounding the site of the new building gives some idea of how imposing the structure will be when completed.

ONE DEAD, 29 INURED IN BIG FIRE

Old Allegheny Section of Pittsburgh Is Scene of Explosion, Flames

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 8.—Police today were searching the ruins of the Seldon building in the heart of the old Allegheny section of the city for possible victims of a fire which for a time threatened a serious conflagration last night.

Gustave Rickett, 40, is dead, twenty-nine others injured, some seriously, and half a dozen more were reported to the police missing.

To add to the horror of the situation, just after the explosions the building was thrown into darkness for a minute or two. Men and women became panic-stricken. The red glare of the flames which followed increased the panic. Three adjoining buildings were also damaged.

The explosions are attributed to accumulations of natural gas, which may have resulted from a leaking pipe.

The county fire marshal will begin a thorough investigation at once. The coroner is expected to take similar action.

Heavy Loss By Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Damage was estimated at between $100,000 and $125,000 as a result of fire which swept an entire block in the Mission industrial district early today. Plants of the Pacific Foundry company and the Mission Stove and Foundry company were gutted.

The fire is believed to have started from oil leaking from a pipe supply system which fed huge ovens used in processing the products of the foundry. Three alarms were sounded, but the flames fed by oil spread too swiftly to be checked. Flames shot up fifty feet in height, lighting up the whole Mission and attracting thousands of persons despite the earliness of the hour.

The firemen successfully prevented the flames from spreading to a million-dollar plant of the Pacific Foundry company in an adjoining block. The Messco & Gottfried company suffered heavy loss in patterns which cannot be replaced.

POLICE HEAD TELLS CLUB OF TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

Chief Fraser Denies His Department Attempts to Handicap Motorist

ENFORCEMENT of traffic ordinances was the topic of discussion yesterday noon at the Harriet Mae Tea Room, 201 East Harvard street, by the Glendale Exchange Club.

Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police, was the guest of the occasion. He outlined the policy of the police department in regard to traffic arrests and received a number of constructive criticisms and suggestions.

"If criticisms are made in the proper manner, they are fine," asserted Col. Fraser. "If a man is big enough to take them, he is the man for this job."

The smallness of the police force, which totals thirty men, including two detective sergeants, three desk sergeants and five motorcycle officers, is a handicap to the enforcement of the law, according to Col. Fraser. He stated that no more than five patrolmen are ever on duty at the same time owing to the fact that a day is twenty-four hours long and that the men get one day off a week.

Wants Evidence
Chief Fraser declared that he was always more than ready to investigate any complaint of an unjust arrest backed up by definite facts. He asserted that police officers would not be permitted to exceed their authority. He said, however, that unless he could be shown that his officers were in the wrong, he would be obliged to back them up.

"You must remember that every one of us has taken an oath to uphold the constitution of the United States and the laws of this state and municipality," he remarked. "Any person, who tries to get us to violate that oath, isn't real he-man."

Capt. W. B. Kelly of 106 West Colorado street, inquired whether motorcycle officers were required to make a certain number of arrests each shift. He said that a rumor to this effect was being circulated. This allegation was branded by Chief Fraser as a "contemptible falsehood." He offered to pay his month's salary to any man who could produce any evidence that any instructions or insinuations had been made at the police station that motorcycle officers would be required to make a certain number of arrests each day in order to hold their jobs.

Use Own Judgment
Inquiry was made by R. E. Johnston of 444 South San Fernando road as to whether traffic officers were not expected to use their own judgment to a certain extent in making arrests. Chief

The general committee is to meet on Friday night for further investigation and discussion.

There were seventy-five Shriners at the club meeting last night. Following the business meeting a stag smoker and social hour with entertainment by Glendale and Los Angeles artists was enjoyed.

Particularly enjoyable were the musical numbers by Mrs. O. E. Ghrist, pianist, and Miss Rohr, contralto of Glendale.

W. S. Rattray, chairman of the entertainment committee, was asked to plan for a banquet affair, to be held in about two weeks for Shriners and their ladies.

The next regular meeting of the club will be the first Wednesday night in April.

THE TIME FOR BUYING GARDEN TOOLS, LAWN, FLOWER AND GARDEN SEEDS IS HERE

—March is the month determined by California Horticulturists as the proper month for planting Spring Gardens, Flower Beds, Fruit Trees, and many varieties of bedding flowers. It is authoritatively stated that the pro rata of home owners in Glendale is greater than in any other Southern California town, hence there should be a larger number of home gardens, flower beds, etc., in Glendale than elsewhere.

—All that is necessary is the right kind of garden and lawn tools, a small plot of ground and a willingness to work. The amount of elbow grease freely administered will determine the net saving on the grocery bill during the spring months, not to mention the personal satisfaction derived from having accomplished something worth while.

PENALTIES LOOM FOR LATE FILING

Income Tax Returns Must Be in Collector's Hands
By March 15

Attention was invited by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, in an announcement made yesterday, to the fact that Income Tax Returns must be placed on file in the office of the Internal Revenue Department not later than midnight of March 15, the final date of the Income Tax filing period.

Simply placing the returns in the mail before the time specified will not comply with the regulations, the collector stated, and those returns which are received in the office of the collector on the morning of March 16 will be classified as delinquent and heavy penalties imposed, as provided under the ruling of the Internal Revenue Act.

Basing his estimate upon the number of returns already filed, Collector Goodcell announced that approximately 150,000 returns must still be filed before the expiration of the time specified by law.

Assistance is being given by deputy collectors to all taxpayers requiring their help. It is expected, however, due to the slow rate at which returns are being filed, that it will not be possible to give much attention to individuals in the last days of the Income Tax rush. The earlier you call the greater assistance it will be possible for the deputy collectors to render. Don't be among those submitting alibis after March 15. File your return today, and "Smile when you pay your income tax."

Hunting In Salt Marsh
Banking Legislation

By Gil A. Cowan

HOW much of your United States do you know? Perhaps you have lived your lives in two or three communities, becoming more or less provincial.

Miss Esto Broughton, the midwest assemblywoman from Modesto, returned to the state legislature at Sacramento after a thirty days' trip throughout the United States. It was her first trip away from home.

A person should not wait until they have established their little niche in the halls of fame before traveling a great deal. It is the only way to attain a general education. It forms new contacts and lends fertility to the mind. Newspaper men, telegraphers, actors and many other nomadic professional people rise in the world to high position because of their general knowledge of conditions which cannot be obtained in one given spot.

It gives me great pleasure to think of W. B. Kirk and family of Glendale going on a tour of the world. Perhaps it has been a desire of a lifetime to make this journey, but it is well worth the expense. I am sure they will return home more enthused than ever with this glorious hibernating spot in southern California, but far beyond that they will have experiences to recount, memories to recall and all of that which goes with globe trotting.

Happily, southern California is not blessed with the provincialism noted elsewhere. The other night in Paso Robles a young man acting as hotel clerk expressed himself as being a "hick" and intending to remain one.

Surely his mind never will be burdened with any world problems or affairs of state, but he may become constable some day in his township. Yet his boyhood chums will hie away to the cities or foreign shores and become diplomats or financiers or mere wanderers over the face of the earth.

It is said that the ambition of every Scotch boy is to get down to Lunnon. Every London clerk is anxious to be sent to the colonies and so on. There seems to be a natural desire for youth to turn westward, the sun controlling the universe, as it were.

Some evening, when you have nothing more pressing at hand, seek some scientific person and discuss the sun and moon and stars. The conclusions you will reach, if you think deeply enough, will lead to the assumption of all religions that there is an actual transmigration of the soul.

And there is one thing about the whole proposition that is interesting, viz: Your guess is as good as the next one's. You will also gather from such a conversation the conviction that the human race has but begun to develop and you will doubt that the Creator in His almighty wisdom is going to cut short our stay on this planet until we have reached a much higher state of perfection than that now apprehended by mortal mind.

Indeed, such contemplations as these, if not followed too closely, to the neglect of daily routine, will give a glorious avocation for the mentality.

A young friend of mine in San Francisco the other evening at dinner told me of going hunting one early morning. His chum reached the marsh and got down on his knees and felt around in the rushes to make sure they were at the water's brink. He explained his queer action by saying that at one time before in the dusk he had trapped all over a salt marsh that was dry, the mirage making him believe it was a good gaming ground, but nary a bird was found.

While that mistake seems almost impossible, in public service we find the same mirage. People will run for office, be honored with election and in due time find they have been hunting in a salt marsh. The pecuniary remuneration is insufficient. The peace of mind is usually disturbed by petty political jealousies. The results of good work are seldom recognized and the dawn comes only too soon.

And when it dawns upon a public servant that his work has been futile, he seldom has the courage to return from the morass without a bag of game and goes idly on as a commissioner, or a judge, or an envoy to the end of his days.

A cynical optimist, looking over the legislation proposed in the California legislature, has expressed the opinion that amendments to the state banking act, introduced by Senator Hart of Los Angeles, should have the closest scrutiny in the interests of the public weal.

Bankers and attorneys who have considered the subject seem agreed that my friend is wrong; but cursory examination shows that it will be possible under the proposed laws for banks to overload on public securities. In that case liquidation will be difficult in hours of financial uneasiness and the victims of "call" loans will be many.

Also, while many banks will be perfectly solvent, their assets will be so tied up in case of a flurry that ready cash will be as scarce as hen's teeth. That is going to be mighty embarrassing to the small merchant who needs money to carry him over an emergency.

Perhaps this viewpoint is all wrong. Perhaps the bankers and attorneys are right. At the same time it must be conceded that the bourgeois must see that their rights are respected inasmuch as they are the major portion of American population.

A Scarcity Impends in New Cotton Goods

In the spring time and in the summer—when trips to the laundry double up—cotton surely counts. All women should take inventory right now of what they haven't got in cotton—for themselves or the children—and set needles flying on the new fabrics this store has brought here for their use—outside and inside, on top or underneath. It will pay you to look ahead a bit—for there isn't any too much cotton in the country, especially at these prices. We advise early selection.

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—John D. Mueller, Chicago, cites statistics to show that Chicago is not especially congested outside of the "Loop" district, and on other miscellaneous topics.

TOMORROW—Crime is on the decrease in Paris, but not so with the H. C. L., writes Alice Langellier, Paris correspondent. Living costs are constantly getting higher, she says.

By JOHN D. MUELLER,
For International News Service

CHICAGO, March 8.—The visitor who laboriously pines and prods his way through the surging throngs of "the world's busiest corner"—State and Madison streets—probably looks upon Chicago as the last word in congestion. And, too, many Chicagoans are almost startled to learn that in reality Chicago is a city where congestion extends little beyond the streets of its famous "Loop" district.

According to official figures, one-third of the millions of Chicagoans live in one-family houses or flats. In all there are approximately 750,000 such homes here. The depot, which is incorporated in a survey made by the Chicago zoning commission, also reveals that another million of the population of this city live in two-family flats. Only one million live in larger apartment houses and flats over stores.

One-family homes here have a total frontage of 777 miles, the report shows. Two-family flats have a total frontage of 484 miles and apartment houses an aggregate frontage of but 263 miles.

Alderman John Lynch, of Chicago, is still wondering how it happened.

When visiting Paris the Alderman one day discovered his watch had stopped. He shook it, but of no avail. It was "dead."

A jeweler promised to make the necessary repairs, after expressing some wonderment that a man could be so indiscreet as to carry such a trinket with the Apaches' fingers itching.

The Alderman lost his street guide. Also he lost the address of the jeweler to whom the watch had been taken. He told his trouble to the Prefect of Police, who, with many bows, informed him the watch would be returned.

Following his return to America Alderman Lynch one day received a bulky and official appearing letter. It announced that the Prefect of Police had found his watch, and that it had been returned. Then came notice from the customs officer here of the arrival of a package.

The Alderman was somewhat bewildered when, on his arrival at the customs office, he found awaiting him a package containing a clock eight feet tall and a foot and one-half thick.

To give women of Illinois laws patterned after those of Wisconsin, "giving women every right that men have," will be the first effort of Mrs. Lottie O'Neill, Illinois' first woman member of the State Legislature.

Speaking before a gathering of women school teachers here, Mrs. O'Neill thus outlined her program.

"Better laws for women mean service for men as well as women."

"Illinois women are interested in a campaign to make all laws of the country fair to women because it is simply the next demom-

Patient's Temperature Reaches 114 Degrees

ESCANABA, Mich., March 8.—A change in the temperature of Miss Evelyn Lyons, who for two weeks has registered 114 degrees, may be expected within another seven days, her physician, Dr. H. F. Defnet, announced today.

"This is what is professionally called 'false temperature,'" the physician explained. "It has its origin in the brain. Although 108 degrees usually proves fatal, there have been instances of good recovery from such a seemingly abnormal temperature. The patient otherwise is rational, has a good appetite and resents remaining in bed."

Immigration laws, limiting the number of immigrants to be admitted into the United States, may be overhauled by Congress and be turned into permanency of form. The 3 per cent provision probably will be retained in the revised statute.

Any changing of the immigration laws should contemplate excluding rigorously from this country any and all aliens who are anarchists or disorderly. The element which despises American institutions and would overthrow it if they could—law and orderly government, should be kept out of the United States. They come here for no good to this country or to its people or institutions. They come nefariously to presume upon the generosity and hospitality of this nation. Because of their unworthy motives and their menacing character they should be deported from this country.

But for the desirable European immigrant—the law-abiding class—who come with good intent, pleased to become good American citizens, there should be welcome, the number admitted to be restricted to reasonable limits.

A Disregarded Warning
While awaiting delivery of his car, Brown put in some time learning to drive, on a friend's machine of the same make, somewhat to his detriment, for at first, he generally hit reverse gear instead of second speed, when getting into the yard, and staled the engine so often that the starter had to work overtime. Just the same, he got so he could drive first class and so impressed the examiner that his license came through all right. The Saturday afternoon when he took delivery seemed the appointed time to give it a real tryout and friends were ready to assist thereto. "When I brought her up from the freight yard, she seemed a bit stiff," volunteered the man who drove her out of the garage. "Yes, she's all fed up with water, gas and oil." "All right," chirped Brown, as he carelessly pulled off and stuffed into his coat pocket a bright red tag that didn't seem to ornament the steering post. The party that he picked up agreed that she was "some boat," and further cheerfully opined that the owner was "some driver," for really he handled the wheel like a veteran. When the inevitable stop for cigars for the front seat and chocolates for the rear was made at a suburban stand, the radiator was blowing steam voluminously, but Brown was sure she would cool off on the open road, when he let her out and she surely did open her up, so that at times, the speedometer graduations seemed inclined to start around the second time. What a wealth of power there was for the hills—at first—but after a while she began to act a little "draggy" on the grades and there were funny murmurs which grew worse from under the hood. It peeved Brown to have to go into second and then into low on a hill, while sounds reminiscent of a boiler shop emanated from in front and, finally, in trying to rush a steep pitch, on high, the engine stalled with jazz accompaniment and the starter refused to budge it. While waiting for the tow-car from the Clarkville Garage, Brown pulled out his gloves, bringing with them the ubiquitous red tag and, in utter boredom, glanced at it. "This is what he read—The moving parts of this car are very closely and accurately fitted and we disclaim all responsibility for damage resulting, if this car is run over 25 miles per hour, during its first 500 miles of service."

Locating Air Leaks
L. J. writes: My engine idles unevenly and misses quite a little when running slowly. One of my friends says that this is because extra air is sucked into the cylinder and keep tight. The car which I owned before this ran 12,000 miles without any attention to its valves. In all other respects my present car is satisfactory and I should like to run it another season. Is there anything I can do about the valves?

Answer: At the time your car was built, there was some difficulty in obtaining the best metal for valve heads and considerable inferior heat resisting material was used, almost of necessity. This may not have been the case in this particular instance, but we suggest that you take this matter up with the factory which built your car.

Anders, where the parts are not tight, and that this makes the gas too thin to burn. How can I test and find if this is so, and locate the places where this air gets in?

Answer: If leaks around the valves stems are suspected, proceed as follows: With a valve-in-head engine, remove the valve cover, start the engine and, with a squirt can, run gasoline down each inlet valve stem. If this makes the engine fire regularly, there is air leakage around the stems. In the case of pocketed intake valves, remove the cover plate and wind a shroud of cotton waste around and through the lower ends of each valve spring. Start the engine and if gasoline stops the missing, leakage is demonstrated. A piece of gasoline soaked waste held against suspected manifold and carburetor flanges will test out these possible leak points.

Troublesome Valves
G. L. writes: My 1918 car has always given me trouble by requiring regrounding of its valves at what seems to me altogether too short intervals. About 4000 miles is all the service they will stand

100,000 Federal Men Dropped From Payroll

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The retrenchment policy of the Harding administration, during its first two years has resulted in the dismissal of nearly 100,000 federal employees, the White House announced today.

Herds of caribou estimated at more than 3,000,000 animals, are found in the Arctic.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MARCH WIND
The Fuzzy Fox met the Wolf just outside the den of the Wootzie chap. It was a cold, blustery, wintry day.

"Well," hoarsely whispered the Fox, for he had caught cold. "Not well—bad!" coughed the Wolf, for he, too, had caught cold from having fallen into a snow bank. "Very bad."

"Yes, I'm bad myself," said the Fox. "I mean I feel badly," he went on, though, truth to tell, he was really bad—as bad a Fox as ever tried to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears.

"You don't understand," snarled the Wolf. "I mean things are going from bad to worse. I haven't had any car nibbles in so long that I forget how they taste."

"Well, I don't believe we'll ever nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears," spoke the Fox. "He always manages to get away from us."

"Yet this is the best day of the year on which to try to catch him," said the Wolf.

"How?" asked the Fox, eagerly. "This is the first of March," went on the Wolf. "This is the day the March winds start to blow, to send Spring and Summer up from down South, where they've been all Winter."

"Well, just because the March wind is going to blow—and I can feel it now," said the Fox, "that's no reason why we can catch Uncle Wiggily."

"Yes, it is," said the Wolf. "Listen. We'll sneak along until we see him coming out of his hollow stump bungalow. We'll go softly up behind him and wait for the March wind to blow off his hat. When the wind blows off his hat—as it is sure to do sooner or later—he'll run after it—after his hat, I mean. And he'll be so excited that he won't notice us, and we can nibble his ears."

"Good!" cried the Fox, though really it was rather bad. "But suppose the wind doesn't blow hard enough to lift Uncle Wiggily's hat off his head? What then?"

"Then we must help the March wind by blowing the hat ourselves," said the Wolf.

"All right—we'll do it," agreed the Fox.

Out of his hollow stump bungalow to look for an adventure hopped Uncle Wiggily Loneears. Behind him sneaked the Fox and the Wolf, creeping so softly on the snow that the bunny gentleman never heard them coming. Eagerly they waited.

"Puff!" came the March wind, but it didn't blow off Uncle Wiggily's hat.

"We must wait a little," whispered the Wolf.

"Puff-puff!" blew more March wind, but still the hat remained on the bunny's head.

THE SOME AND THE FEW

There are some people in this world who will not tell a lie—unless it is absolutely necessary.

And there are a few people who will not tell a lie.

Unless It's Too Hard

There are some people whom you can count on to keep a promise—unless some unforeseen circumstance makes it too hard, under which conditions they consider themselves absolved.

And there are a few people whom you can count on to keep a promise.

Unless Under Too Much Pressure

There are some people whom you can trust to keep a secret—unless too great pressure is told is brought to bear upon them.

And there are a few whom you can trust to keep a secret.

BEAUTY CHATS

BEAUTY-MAKING SHAMPOOS

The number and variety of shampoos are legion. There is the plain ordinary soap and water wash, cleansing but not otherwise beneficial, sometimes positively harmful, because few women use enough soap in the first place to take off all the dirt, or have the patience to rinse out the soap. Then there is a shampoo with some ready made powder or liquid. Some of these are all right but most of them, particularly the cheaper ones, have so much soda in the powder and so much alcohol in the liquid that they are frequently worse for the hair than letting it stay dirty. They are made for convenience, therefore they must contain soda or alcohol to dissolve the grease quickly and to make the hair glossy. The only trouble is that their continual use leaves the hair too dry and brittle.

Then there is the crude oil shampoo which is the most beneficial, particularly for dandruff. Thick crude oil, or if you can't get that, olive oil, heated as hot as you can stand it, should be rubbed thoroughly into the scalp and allowed to stay on over night. Next day the hair should be shampooed with hot water, and a good soap, preferably liquid castile. The hair will have to be soaped three to five times to take out all the oil and then rinsed very thoroughly with clean water. This is also good for dandruff, slightly more difficult because the tar and oil mixture must be applied to every part of the scalp with a brush and allowed to stay on 15 minutes and removed by a vigorous shampoo with good soap.

The egg shampoo is easiest and awfully good for the scalp. An egg is beaten thoroughly, rubbed in and allowed to dry, then washed out with soap and water. This takes dirt, grease and dandruff from the scalp and leaves the hair soft and glossy.

Worried—The young lady must have realized there was no intentional familiarity, so I should forget that it happened. Apologizing, either privately or publicly, would make too much out of an unavoidable incident.

Mrs. A. J. L.—As you omitted the addressed stamped envelope I am unable to mail you the formula for the hair tonic. I shall be glad to forward to you as soon as I hear from you again.

M. D. W.—If you are having lines under the eyes and around the chin at 35 years of age, you must be run down, and the muscles of the face are showing the effects of it. Consult your doctor about it, as it is quite possible that you have not overcome the shock that you had at the time of your accident. You will also help to build up the tissues if you massage a nourishing cream into the lines each day and use an astringent several times each week.

Tomorrow—A Chat About Teeth

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Every mother needs a lightweight afghan for her baby's carriage in spring and summer. The following one is easily knitted, is not very expensive, and is particularly dainty. The top surface is made of knitted white perle cotton decorated with crocheted flowers in pink with tiny green leaves. The lining is made from one yard of pink satin (a more reasonable substitute may be used if desired), which is brought over onto the front of the afghan so as to form a two-inch-wide band around the four edges.

Simple Baby Afghan—The materials are 16 balls of white Perle Cotton size three, one spool of Perle number three in pink, one spool of Perle number three in green, one pair of aluminum knitting needles number four and one-half, one steel crochet hook number five, one yard of pink satin. Begin by casting on 120 stitches.

First Row—K 120 stitches.

Second Row—K 1. P repeat * make first and second rows, alternately, for 32 inches. Observe carefully that K lays above K, and P above P on each row. Bind off.

Now put on the decoration of flowers. There will be 41 flowers in all—nine rows of them. In the first row there will be five flowers, separated from each other by four inches (also 4 inches from the edge of the afghan). The next row will have only four flowers, spaced four inches beyond the first row and coming between the first row—that is, not on a line with the first flowers. The next row will have five flowers, the next four, etcetera—alternating the nine rows in this way.

To make the flowers—Measure four inches from the two sides of

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget to enclose the self-addressed and stamped envelope if you ask for an article.

Anxious 48: The doctor that said reducing was only for flappers was joking. Certainly you are not too old to reduce. We have one follower of 73 who reduced and improved his health markedly. When I told of this once before I stated he was most enthusiastic. In one of the papers on our service, through a typographical error, it was written that he was "not" enthusiastic. Typographical errors are going to keep my weight down. I can see that.

Mrs. R.: Whooping cough has no fixed time, it may last for a month to several months. Oftentimes when it hangs on for a long time it is because of the loss of weight and run-down condition of the child due to the loss of food by vomiting. After vomiting a child should always have a nourishing drink of milk, or cocoa, or cream soup. No matter if it has just eaten.

If you will put a snug abdominal binder on your little girl that will help support the abdomen, and will help prevent the vomiting. If you will send in repeating your request we shall send you the name of a firm that makes a good one. Or you can make an abdominal binder of some firm material and put a strip of elastic webbing on each side. Have it lace up the back. Have it wide enough to have it extend from the armpits to a little above the hip bones.

The diet should be the ordinary nourishing diet of childhood. We have an article about that if you desire it. Do not give her any

$30,000 Loot Obtained In Bonds and Gems

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—A belated report to the police today revealed one of the largest robberies committed here in several years, when it was learned that the home of J. E. Lynds, in South Oxford avenue, a retired lumber dealer, had been stripped on February 28 of loot said to be worth $30,000. The valuables were said to have been bonds and jewelry.

Immediately after the robbery a report was made to the police that burglars had entered the place and taken a gold watch and a painting of Swiss scenery.

About 4,800,000 axes are made each year in the United States.

Shoe Buyer Host at Dinner to Salesmen

John L. Circle, manager of the shoe department of the Army & Navy Department Store, is entertaining sixteen of his salesmen from the Main street store at a dinner tonight at his Glendale home, 223 North Isabel street. The affair will be on the order of a St. Patrick's Day celebration. Mr. Circle says that these get-together dinners are an effective way to secure cooperation among his salesmen, and are one of the principal means by which the company's shoe business has been built to an annual business of over a million dollars. In addition to Vaughn Bell, assistant to the general manager of the store, the following salesmen will be present: Messrs. Dinley, Bartlett, Faubion, Fleisig, Lachman, Joop, DePrez, Olson, Ruble, Healy, Graham, Larson, Ball and Neusbaum.

Jealous Italian Stabs Rival for Girl's Love

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—Jealousy over pretty Bernice Mickley resulted in a stabbing affray on a downtown street which may cost the life of Edward Ruiz, ship yard foreman.

The affair took place at Sunset boulevard and North Broadway, when Miss Mickley and Ruiz were accosted, the police say, by Munio Stammatino, 40, Italian cafe owner. According to reports to the police, Stammatino had long sought the hand of Miss Mickley and, seeing her in company with Ruiz became enraged, it is claimed, and attacked Ruiz, who after a few minutes of desperate struggle lay on the sidewalk with a severe cut in the abdomen.

The girl fled the scene of the fight and has not been located.

Texas Quake Fails To Do Any Damage

EL PASO, Tex., March 8.—There was no damage here today resulting from a light earthquake last night at Ansoe which rocked El Paso sufficiently to awaken sleepers.

Telegraphic reports received today indicate that the tremors covered a territory of approximately 400 miles with the center of the disturbance apparently a short distance west of this city.

NEW STORE WILL OPEN NEXT MONTH

First Unit of Chain of Department Stores to Start in Glendale

The A. Ferber Co., Inc., of Los Angeles, a newly formed corporation of eastern capitalists, has leased the store room at 108 South Brand boulevard, just below the present site of the Security Trust & Savings Bank. The Glendale store is the first unit of a chain of department stores to cover the important cities of southern California. Plans are already under way for a much larger store structure in Glendale, but it was decided to improve the 108 South Brand location with a new and modern store front and begin business this spring, and expand to larger quarters in the fall.

April 15 has been set as the tentative date for the opening. The new firm is headed by Abraham Ferber, chain store expert merchandiser, with many years of both eastern and California experience. Mr. Ferber was connected until last month with M. Lurie & Co., in various executive capacities, assisting in the management of their seventeen department stores, located in Albany, N. Y., Troy, N. Y., Schenectady, N. Y., Hoosick Falls, N. Y., Little Falls, N. Y., Herkimer, N. Y., Amsterdam, N. Y., Gloversville, N. Y., North Adams, Mass., Pittsfield, Mass., Bennington, Vt., Ballston Spa, N. Y., and other points. His past seven years in assisting in development of that concern amply qualify him to serve as president and general manager of the new group of chain department stores to be established in southern California.

Pool Purchasing

Purchasing will be pooled through one distributing center in Los Angeles, and in addition to this, the A. Ferber Co., Inc., maintain their own resident buying offices in New York. The economies effected through this efficient method of buying and distributing merchandise will be passed on to the public in the form of lower prices.

All the stores will be operated on a strictly cash basis in order to more effectively serve their patrons, and a strictly one-price policy will be observed.

Personal Charge

Leonard Wood, manager of the Seneca Falls, N. Y., branch of the Chaffee Dry Goods Co., chain of stores, will arrive shortly to assume personal charge of the local store. Mr. Wood has an enviable record of store management, and has won several prizes for the most courteous, progressive and efficiently conducted store of the

Postal Receipts for February Show Gain

WASHINGTON, March 8.—While not reaching the high mark set in January, postal receipts in February kept pace with the increase of February, last year, of 13.18 per cent, the postoffice department announced. This is the greatest percentage increase that has been shown for the same month in any year since 1918. Fort Worth led fifty selected cities with an increase of 8.91 per cent.

chain with which he has been associated.

The A. Ferber Co., Inc., main office will be located in the Westinghouse building, Los Angeles. The stores to be opened in 1923 include, besides the one at Glendale, stores at Long Beach, Pasadena, Santa Ana, Anaheim, and Fullerton. Alterations on the new Ferber store will begin at once and it is anticipated that their slogan, "Ferber's, The Store of The Town," will be well known to every Glendale resident within a few months.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Because Molla Mallory has failed thus far to make an impressive showing in the tennis she has played, many critics have been quick to take up the cry that the famous American tennis star not only is "slipping," but has retrograded at a rate that is unusual.

These critics do not seem to take into consideration the fact that Mrs. Mallory all but called off her European trip on account of ill health. In fact, her husband declared that even though they took the trip he would insist that his wife refrain from playing any tennis. Doubtless he was won over, against his best judgment, and the result probably what he foresaw.

Under the circumstances, it is a bit too previous to pass judgment on Mrs. Mallory's capabilities as her present setbacks may be the result of a mere temporary weakness necessarily attendant on her indisposition. One does not recover from influenza as from a headache or a sore finger.

Here is something which the Coronado Country club, California, claims to be a record. Possibly there may be followers of golf who can duplicate or even better the claim made, which is as follows:

Nelson E. Barker and W. D.

Kraft, playing on a San Diego Country club team, playing in two matches against the Coronado Country club golfers not only won both matches but lost only one hole. There you are. Step up and beat it.

Unlike pugilistic champions who, when they win a title, can organize themselves into a close corporation of one and keep at a distance any challengers that come along, Willie Hoppe, the 18-2 balk line billiard champion, must meet Jake Schaefer of Chicago within prescribed time limits and give him a chance to regain the laurels he lost to Hoppe last November.

The dates set for the match are March 12, 13 and 14. It will be played in three blocks of 500 points each. A lot of interest will center on this match in order to ascertain whether or not Hoppe really has done a regular "comeback" when he wrested the laurels from his opponent. Followers of billiards generally incline to the belief that Hoppe again is master of the situation and it is the minority that believes that Schaefer will be successful in again beating the man who is considered the greatest performer on the green baize that ever has been produced.

In The Spotlight Of Sport

By Wood Cowan

Owen Bush, who from 1908 to 1921 plugged the hole at short for the Detroit Tigers, has been unanimously elected manager and chief pilot of the Washington Senators for this season. At least Bush will make a start. No telling how far he'll get, for Clark Griffith bows in pilots to guide his club one week and throws 'em out the exit the next.

Bush should make a good manager for he is well liked by fans and players. With the experience of 17 years of professional ball under his hat, Owen knows as much baseball as any man in the game. His long, continuous service proves that he must be a clean living athlete and a hard worker.

Never a great hitter, even in the heyday of his career, his batting average held around .265. Once on the bases, because of his speed and clever base running, Bush was always dangerous. He was among the leading base stealers in his league from 1909 to 1915.

Owen is from Indianapolis, bats on either side of the plate, throws right handed, is 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weighs 150. He first played professional ball with St. Ste. Marie, then went to Saginaw, thence to Dayton, to South Bend next, then to Indianapolis and from there, in 1908, to Detroit. He went by waiver to Washington late in 1921.

Bush contends that shortstop is the hardest position on the diamond to play—that a shortstop makes throws that are actually longer than any third baseman has ever made; that the hardest play a shortstop makes is fielding a slow roller, because it comes to him so late that unless the play is hurried the runner will beat out the throw to first, and that many seemingly inexcusable errors made on easy chances are the result of this.

Last year Clark Griffith surprised the bugs by appointing Clyde Milan to succeed George McBride when he resigned after Rodger Peckinpaugh had been obtained in a trade with the New York Yankees. Peckinpaugh had ambitions to take the reins of some club and everyone agreed that the trade was for the purpose of obtaining Peckinpaugh's services as a manager. Now Griffith upsets the dope again by appointing Bush. But on second thought, it is pretty well agreed that the Old Fox used mighty good judgment in his choice for 1923.

Ray and Ritola May Meet to Decide Title

NEW YORK, March 8.—The hope was expressed today that Jole Ray and Willie Ritola will be brought together in a third and deciding race before the end of the indoor season, the series now standing one-all in victories as the result of Ray's victory over his great rival last night in the world's record time of 14:54.3-5 for 5,000 meters. Ray won the race by coming from behind on the bell lap just as did Ritola upon the occasion of their previous meeting.

In winning last night, Ray obtained the added satisfaction of displacing the record of 15:01.2-5, established by Ritola some weeks ago. Although beaten by 25 yards, the Finn ran inside the former record as did Ray when he finished second to Ritola over the three-mile distance.

Denies Any Slur Is Intended for U. S. C.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Abbott Southall, secretary of the intercollegiate A. A. A., denied today any slur was intended upon the eligibility standards of the University of Southern California in tabling that institution's request to be allowed in the championship games in May.

The association has not sufficient information that southern California's rules for eligibility are in accordance with those set down by the association, he said. The university was requested to send information as to scholastic requirements and a statement of rules of eligibility.

According to statements from California, however, the institution will decline to apply again and will forbid Charley Padock, its star sprinter, to compete in eastern meets this year.

THEATRES

The GLENDALE The T. D. & L.

"Secrets of Paris," the Whitman Bennett production now showing at the Glendale Theatre, is the screen version of the far-famed novel of the same name by Eugene Sue.

The great all-star cast assembled for this spectacular production includes Lew Cody, Manteiga Love, William Collier, Jr., Dolores Cassinelli, Effie Shannon and many others.

It is a picture produced with a care of detail that will delight the critic—colorful character studies whose realism represents the height of screen art—deep-bedded romance and a crescendo of dramatic action—every element embodied in the word entertainment.

In addition, many short news and novelty subjects are on the program.

"Racing Hearts," the Paramount feature showing today for the last times at the T. D. & L. Theatre, is a splendid automobile story of love and thrills, featuring Agnes Ayers, Richard Dix and Theodore Roberts.

Miss Ayers, in the role of Virginia Kent, is bent on popularizing the Granada cars, her daddy's product. As a means of obtaining publicity she has herself arrested several times for speeding—and wins the racing classic into the bargain. Result: Granada cars become popular and her loving parent is saved from bankruptcy. Incidentally she wins the love of the son of the rival manufacturer.

In addition, there will be a big preview at the T. D. & L. Theatre tonight.

length the program for real estate legislation that has been submitted to the present session of the state legislature, setting forth the proposals embodied in the Gates and Sample bills for the betterment of the conditions governing the members of the profession in this state. Mr. Akin stressed the point that there is not the same degree of development in the country sections of the state as there is in the urban districts, and he insisted that a proper balance must be preserved if the country is to prosper.
This can only be done, he insisted, by bringing here farmers who know how to farm, and not the discen-titled city dwellers or the socially inclined people who will be failures wherever they may be placed, and who will need constant support from those among whom they cast their lot.
Dr. Theobald of the Tujunga Realty Board spoke briefly, urging the realty men of the valley towns to work together for the common good and for the building of the vast empire that is being brought into existence here.

Chief of Police
TELLS OF TRAFFIC
Denies Motor Cops Have
Orders to Make Certain
Number of Arrests
Fraser replied that this was indeed the case and that the public did not know of the many technical violations of the traffic ordinances overlooked by police officers. He stated that police officers had no personal interest in making arrests.
"The best of excessive speed
made by motorcycle officers while on duty, was raised by Mr. Johnson, also. He was informed by Mrs. Fraser that instructions both verbal and written have been issued to all members of the police department that they must not violate speed laws—unless on their way to make an arrest.
Complaint against speed traps
was made by E. B. Sutton of 112
South Maryland avenue, agent for
"Another Nash," who expressed an opinion that "promiscuous arrests" have a tendency to give this community a bad name throughout Southern California.
Speed Trap Functions
The speed trap, according to
Chief Fraser, has two functions.
First, to eliminate guesswork on the part of motorcycle officers by giving him an opportunity to time an automobile passing over a definite stretch of road; and second, to catch the motorist who only violates the law when he believes that he is not within the surveillance of the law.
Some hesitancy because of indefinite information was expressed by Chief Fraser in answering a question raised by Capt.
Kelly as to approximately what percentage of traffic arrests result in fines.
"I should judge—I am just making a guess now—about 90 percent," replied Chief Fraser. "I suppose about 80 percent of them
would plead guilty themselves."
"Isn't it a fact that they plead guilty," retorted Mr. Kelly, "because they know that they are going to be fined anyway?"
Chief Fraser laughingly replied that he was not "trying to run"
the local police court. He suggested that the club might invite Judge F. H. Lowe to explain the point at issue. The discussion was diverted then to another phase of the discussion.
Glendale makes less arrests in proportion to its size than any other community in California,
according to Chief Fraser. He asserted that every effort was being made to be as lenient as possible with traffic violators.
"Our streets are not big enough to handle the traffic," stated
Chief Fraser. "It is getting worse all the time. In other words, we can't put a quart in a pint bottle."
I was surprised when the intersection of Los Feliz and San Fernando road was checked up on a quiet day not long ago to find that 32,000 machines in one day
crossed the intersection.
"When you handle that traffic
with a small percentage of accidents, it shows that the police are doing something. There is a possibility that we are not doing
as much as we should, but you must take into consideration that we may not be efficient."
This community has grown from a town to a city in a very short time.

New Salesman Joins Force in Webb Store

An announcement made this morning by H. S. Webb of the H.
S. Webb dry goods company, states that W. Hutchinson, formerly of Glendale, is to be associated with the Webb company in their new store on North Brand boulevard.
Mr. Hutchinson comes to the Webb company with a wide experience, having for many years been associated with one of the largest department stores in Los Angeles.
A future that offers unrivaled prospects to those who come here.
"We are laying the foundations for an immense empire here in southern California," he declared, "but we must look to it that we build in such a manner that the men and women who will come here are treated fairly, for on the reality men and women of this section rests the responsibility for the happiness and prosperity for the thronging thousands who will settle here within the next few years."

CHIEF OF POLICE
TELLS OF TRAFFIC
Denies Motor Cops Have
Orders to Make Certain
Number of Arrests

Fraser replied that this was indeed the case and that the public did not know of the many technical violations of the traffic ordinances overlooked by police officers. He stated that police officers had no personal interest in making arrests.
"The best of excessive speed
made by motorcycle officers while on duty, was raised by Mr. Johnson, also. He was informed by
Mrs. Fraser that instructions both verbal and written have been issued to all members of the police department that they must not violate speed laws—unless on their way to make an arrest.
Complaint against speed traps
was made by E. B. Sutton of 112
South Maryland avenue, agent for
"Another Nash," who expressed
an opinion that "promiscuous arrests" have a tendency to give this community a bad name throughout Southern California.
Speed Trap Functions
The speed trap, according to
Chief Fraser, has two functions.
First, to eliminate guesswork on
the part of motorcycle officers by giving him an opportunity to
time an automobile passing over a definite stretch of road; and
second, to catch the motorist who only violates the law when he believes that he is not within the
surveillance of the law.
Some hesitancy because of indefinite information was expressed by Chief Fraser in answering a question raised by Capt.
Kelly as to approximately what percentage of traffic arrests result
in fines.
"I should judge—I am just making a guess now—about 90 percent," replied Chief Fraser. "I suppose about 80 percent of them
would plead guilty themselves."
"Isn't it a fact that they plead guilty," retorted Mr. Kelly, "because they know that they are going to be fined anyway?"
Chief Fraser laughingly replied
that he was not "trying to run"
the local police court. He suggested that the club might invite Judge F. H. Lowe to explain the point at issue. The discussion was diverted then to another
phase of the discussion.
Glendale makes less arrests in proportion to its size than any other community in California,
according to Chief Fraser. He asserted that every effort was being made to be as lenient as possible with traffic violators.
"Our streets are not big enough
to handle the traffic," stated
Chief Fraser. "It is getting worse
all the time. In other words, we can't put a quart in a pint bottle."
I was surprised when the intersection of Los Feliz and San Fernando road was checked up on a quiet day not long ago to find that 32,000 machines in one day
crossed the intersection.
"When you handle that traffic
with a small percentage of accidents, it shows that the police are doing something. There is a possibility that we are not doing
as much as we should, but you must take into consideration that we may not be efficient."
This community has grown from a town to a city in a very short time.

TEACH WOMEN TO MAKE PIE CRUST

Cookery Demonstration to Show New Methods of Pastry Cooking

Women of Glendale will have an opportunity this Saturday afternoon from 2 till 4 o'clock, at Coker & Taylor's School of Home Cookery, 209 South Brand boulevard, to learn how the new and delicious hot water pie-crusts are made.

O. J. Merrill states that he has arranged for Mrs. Howard of the Pasadena Women's exchange to give a talk and demonstration before the school, at that hour.

As this school is open to all women of Glendale and their friends and is entirely free, it is felt that a large attendance will be registered.

In addition, Mrs. H. S. Border, the school's regular teacher, will conduct one of her series of intensely interesting and instructive lessons.

The New Authentic Footwear Has Arrived

Are We Going Back to Sandals?
